A fraction over 1.51 inches is the rain record for Hondo since our last issue. The greater fall occurring on Sunday night and Monday morning.

Tuesday afternoon another heavy shower fell, but covered but little territory. "This latter rain is the last we have had, since which time Old Sol has been getting in his work, and once again the farmers are getting just the kind of weather they long have been longing for. Cotton crops are being cleaned out and what boll weevils that have made their appearance will either have to retire to the shade or suffer a sun stroke.

In response to an urgent appeal from the Near East for the relief of the Armenians, ladies of the Methodist Missionary Society are asking donations of clothing, such as coats, dresses, suits (all sizes) sweaters, mittens, wool stockings, boots and shoes, (tie in pairs) wollen gloves, wollen shirts, shop worn goods, new garments, and cloth, sheets to make bandages. Any serviceable goods will be gladly accepted, but fancy garments such as evening gowns and satin slippers are not wanted. Donations large or small will be appreciated. Please get your donations in during June. The box will be at Mrs. Tom McClaugherty's house. Mrs. Eva Wilson, Supt. Supplies.

The winning streak of the Hondo baseball team continues. Tuesday they took a game from the Grayburg Oilers of San Antonio by a score of 4 to 0. Owing to the heavy shower of rain here, this game was played on the D'Hanis diamond. Devine was here Friday and the result of this game increases the percentage of the locals, our boys taking the game by a score of 8 to 3. The next big game here, and perhaps the most important one our team will engage in this season will occur at de Montel Park next Monday and Tuesday. Del Rio comes up on those days for a two-series game. Be on hand and root for the home team. They are going up against a hard proposition and will probably need all the encouragement that can be given them. A record-breaking crowd is expected to witness these games.

A CARD FROM MR. DURHAM

Editor Anvil Herald:

I understand there are some people in Medina county who hesitate to vote for me in the July primary for fear that if elected I will favor the creation of a new county out of Medina and Uvalde counties, and I take this method to say to all such that there is no sentiment here favoring such a proposition, and if there were I would be very much opposed to it.

Our tax burdens are already so heavy that we are hunch-backed and bow-legged trying to carry them and I am opposed to adding another straw to the already over-burdened tax payer's load.

I am more interested in trying to lessen and equalize the taxes we already have and if elected I pledge my best efforts and whatever ability I possess to that end.

Upon this pledge I respectfully solicit the support of the men and women in Medina county, and throughout the district.

(adv.) A. J. Durham.

A recent issue of the Lacoste Ledger contained an account of a cucumber raised in that vicinity. We confess that the Ledger's cucumber was a very fair specimen of the fruit of the cucurbitaceous vine, but when it comes to raising real cucumbers the palm has to be handed to Willie Eckhart of Hondo. He brought three cucumbers to this office the early part of the week, one of which completely lays the Lacoste cucumber in the shade—in fact, makes it look like a dwarf variety. The Eckhart cucumber measured 17 1-2 inches in length, 11 inches in diameter, and tipped the scales at 3 1-2 pounds. If the Lacoste people want to raise real cucumbers they should make it a point to get some seed. It is on display at the Chamber of Commerce rooms now, but perhaps he will take out the seed later.

Notwithstanding the breaking of a part on our Linotype early Monday morning and the failure to receive the part from San Antonio until our operator made a trip to the city to secure the piece, delayed us nearly three days the first of the week, agreeable to our promise of last week our new paper went to the postoffice on time. The Star shone as brightly as ever at its appointed time, and as we write this, the Anvil Herald is coming in on the home stretch with little prospect of delay in reaching its readers. Great is team work, and when a business is manned by employees such as the Anvil Herald has, who are willing to "buck up" in a pinch, there is no telling what handicap can be overcome.

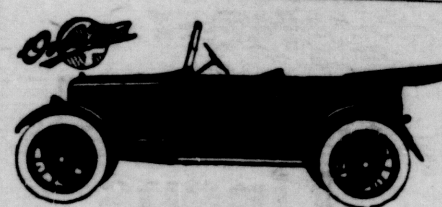

Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Reilly and children are back from a visit to Mrs. Reilly's old home at Centerville, Leon county. Mr. Reilly is not very much enamored of that section of Texas. In fact, he says, give him good old Medina county and the rest of the people can have the rest of Texas. He says crops in the sections visited are rained out.

The Anvil Herald is in receipt of the following card: Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Dowdy announce the marriage of their daughter, Jennie Mae, to Mr. James Edgar Frazer, on Saturday, June seventeenth, nineteen hundred twenty-two, San Antonio, Texas. At home, Sinton, Texas.

At the regular meeting of the local lodge of Odd Fellows, held at the hall Thursday night, Walter K. Mask was elected Noble Grand for the ensuing term and Jerry Smith, Vice-Grand. There was a conference of the Hondo Fair Committee last Monday night, but most of the work was postponed until next Monday night when there will be another conference. It is hoped that there will be a full attendance of all those who are interested in the Fair as some very important business is to come up for consideration.

Mr. and Mrs. And. Sprott of Tarpley returned Wednesday night from their trip to George West, where they visited the family of their daughter, Mrs. Aug. Schelle. They report fine cotton in that section, although too much rain and insect pests were plentiful. Mr. and Mrs. Sprott stopped over in Hondo and left for home Thursday after an absence of nearly two weeks.

The little four-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Sprott of the Tarpley section was brought to Hondo Wednesday afternoon for surgical attention. The little girl had the misfortune to suffer a fall from a bed and broke her left arm near the elbow. Mr. Sprott, who had just reached home from a business trip to Hondo, met the party just as they started to town and returned with them. While the little girl is in for a siege of suffering, being young, it is not thought she will suffer any permanent injury.

THE INCREASING BUSINESS of this BANK is an indication that the service it renders is satisfactory. If not already a patron, may we not have your account? We give our customers as liberal accommodations as is consistent with sound banking.

One of the most valuable recent contributions to economic literature is a modest volume by that able and popular writer, Dr. Frederick C. Howe, entitled "Denmark, A Co-operative Commonwealth." It is said of it that it is "the first book to interpret for America the remarkable progress made by Denmark in scientific agriculture, in organized co-operation, in education and in politics. The Danish Parliament and Ministry have been controlled by farmers for the greater part of a generation and this has resulted in the most advanced legislation for the promotion of agricultural interests of any country in the world. One person out of every two in Denmark is connected with some co-operative enterprise."

It goes without saying, then, that in Denmark can be found much by way of salutary example for those who would contribute to the making of a better, more prosperous and happier rural America. Dr. Howe has found these lessons and in a very concise and clear-cut way interprets them to his American readers.

Let us hear the author in his own language: "Denmark seems to me to be quite the most valuable political exhibit in the modern world. * * * Denmark is one of the few countries in the world that is using its political agencies in an intelligent, conscious way for the promotion of the economic well being, the comfort and the cultural life of the people. * * * Denmark shows that the state can control the distribution of wealth and increase its production as well. It can destroy monopoly and privileges of all kinds. It can make it possible for all people to live easily and comfortably. * * * Denmark has raised the standard of intelligence to a high point. It has abolished illiteracy. Most important of all, it has ushered in a society in which equality of opportunity is not far from an accomplished fact. Denmark also demonstrated that agriculture can be made an alluring as well as a profitable profession. * * * For over a generation Denmark has been working out plans for converting the tenant into a home owner. This probably explains the other achievements of the country. This lies back of the educational program as well as the universal spirit of co-operation that prevails. The culture of Denmark is * * * a culture not of a few people but of the whole nation. * * * Denmark demonstrates too, that democracy levels up. * * * No country in Europe spends so large a part of its budget on education, on social agencies, on cultural things. * * * And no people as a whole are so eager for lectures, for purely intellectual enjoyments, as are the Danes. * * * Co-operation is the thing for which Denmark is widely known. And co-operation pervades everything. * * * Every second family in Denmark is connected with one or more of the co-operative societies, while the average farmer is a member of from three to ten such organizations. * * * This movement of the farmers has ended the duality that prevails in other countries. It has put an end to the artificiality of a political state governed by lawyers, land owners or a privileged class, and an economic state separate and detached from the

What an accomplishment is all this; what lessons in achievement for this country—puffed up with its self-esteem—to emulate! Again, hear the author in reference to the American farmer by way of contrast. He says: "Agriculture in America waits on an economic program that will make the farmer self-contained, that will enable him to control his own life, his politics, his banks, his markets, his means of distribution. And it is probable that the struggle in this country will be far more bitter than it was in Denmark, for the exploiting agencies with us are far more powerfully organized; they have a stronger strangle-hold on politics, the press and on our industrial life than they did in little Denmark a generation ago..

"The farmer is the Cinderella of politics. He is the prey of the speculator and the exploiter. He is a free man in theory, but in practice he is preyed upon by innumerable agencies that live upon his efforts. In the middle west, especially, the farmer works for the speculator and the middleman. He has been reduced to something like serfdom that differs more in the methods employed than in the fact itself."

Then he would point the way out by citing Denmark.

"The experience of Denmark shows that a state must own many things and do many things in order that the people may be free. * * * Industrial freedom involves a certain amount of state control or co-operative control in order that other liberties may be enjoyed. And only through such co-operative action, either voluntary action of the individual or political action through the state, can the producing groups so control their economic life as to escape from the exploiting agencies that have risen to such power in America."

But enough. You should read the book and ponder its teachings. It is sold by the publishers, Harcourt, Brace and Company, New York, at $2.00 the volume.

FEED THE WORK HORSE.

The next few months, says the Extension Service Farm News, is a season when Texas horses and mules will do their hardest work. This is also a season of short feed supply of satisfactory nature. On account of a variety of feed stuff on many farms the work horses and mules are likely to suffer on account of an unbalanced ration. Most horses will be fed on either milo, kafir, corn or feterita. These are substantial and strengthening, but when fed alone are inclined to be heating and fattening while they lack the elements which rebuild bone and muscle. Oats and wheat bran are very satisfactory from the standpoint of bone and muscle feeds. Johnson grass, Sudan grass and sorghum belong to that class of hays which produce largely energy and fat, while cowpeas, peanuts and alfalfa, Bermuda grass, are hays and belong to the muscle and bone building elements.

For the best results as well as the most economical, horses and mules such as corn or milo are available, the muscle producing hays, alfalfa, cowpeas and peanuts should be fed; while oats and bran are fed, such as Sudan grass, sorghum or Johnson grass can be used to balance the ration. If only the fattening grains and hays are available, the muscle building element may be had by feeding a handful or two of cottonseed meal at each feed. Hard worked horses eat more hay and less grain while mules will eat more hay than horses.

Now is the time for the farmer to get ready to exhibit at the fall Fairs. Have something to show that will reflect credit on your farm and show it at the fair, that others seeing your good works may go and do likewise.

FLETCHER DAVIS, EDITOR

VOL. I.

HONDO, TEXAS, JULY 1, 1922.

No. 1.

HOWDY-DO, FOLKS!

Make the acquaintance of FLETCHER'S STATE RIGHTS FARMING.

It isn't as big as many farm papers; and it may not be as good as some of them; but there is nothing else just like it. If you want something that's different in farm journalism, that's FARMING.

FARMING has come into existence to serve you. Be considerate of its purpose and let it serve you where it can. Read it carefully; criticize it kindly—if you must—and patronize it. And by so doing you will help it grow into larger powers and broader fields of usefulness.

These are busy days on the farm. Some crops are being laid by, and others are being harvested. The canning season is on. The farmer and his entire family are as busy every day as the editor of a one-man country paper on press day! And believe me, that's some busy, for the writer has been both. But we are sure those of our friends who receive this paper will take time to read it. We know they will feel refreshed by the act and hope they will read it to their profit.

WHEN CROPS ARE FOUL, work is behind and time counts one needs to get the maximum of service from the work teams. But the days are long, the work is heavy, the weather is hot and the best of teams can not give maximum service throughout the long, hot summer days. For the strenuous demands of such occasions, some of the most successful farmers have found it economy to keep two teams and work them in half-day shifts. This gives the maximum of labor return with the minimum of exhaustion to the team.

When so much is demanded of the teams, care should be exercised to keep them "fit." Harness should be so adjusted as to enable them to perform the work required with the least draft necessary, and scrupulous care should be used to avoid chafing and injuring shoulders and backs. No animal can be expected to do good work when it must press a sore shoulder to the collar.

Dr. A. S. Alexander, writing in Farm Knowledge, advises: "A good dusting powder for sore shoulders contains equal parts of naphthalin and slacked lime. Bathing the skin 2 or 3 times daily with cold salt water, having the harness fit properly and keeping it clean all helps to prevent harness galls, boils, and tumors. Tal-cum powder dusted upon the bearing surfaces of harness helps to prevent chafing." And in this as in most cases of illness and accidents, "an ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure."

Good, wholesome, clean, fresh water, a certain amount of pasture grazing and comfortable shade under which the animals out of service can rest and recuperate will go a long way towards sustaining their appetites, preventing their "going off their feed," and keep them in fit condition.

In other words, the careful man who desires and expects the maximum of service from his work animals, like the merciful man, "will be merciful to his beast."

APROPOS OF COL. CLARIDGE'S reference elsewhere to the keeping qualities of Buffalo grass hay, reminds us to say that following the recent abundant rains, West Texas has probably the finest crop of this grass in its history. Enough can be cured up and stored as hay to tide the farm stock over several dry years on most farms. Many is the time when a big hay stack has been the salvation of the farmer of the semi-arid area of our State. Those times will come again and the man who is best prepared will best "weather" the dry period.

But some will say that when it is wet enough to grow the grass it is too wet to save the hay, and that is often true. Here is where a silo would prove its worth. Buffalo grass, careless weeds and other vegetable growth on the fields now will make good feed when chopped up into ensilage and weather that is too wet for curing hay is all right for putting up ensilage.

AN ECONOMIC WASTE on many farms is the allowing of the grain stubble to lie barren and non-productive during the long summer and fall months after the small grain has been harvested. There is always loss and waste in idleness, whether of hands, lands or machinery. Sometimes the difference between success and failure lies in keeping fertile acres from being idle.

There are two kinds of waste suffered when grain stubble is allowed to lie idle. There is a production loss from the farm income of what the idle land might be made to produce. Then there is a loss in soil fertility. Some of our best agricultural thinkers of today are firmly of the opinion that the loss of soil fertility and the consequent decline in productiveness incident to allowing the soil to lie barren in the hot sun of our Texas summers totals an appalling amount.

They explain it this way: The heat of the sun hastens the oxidation of the vegetable matter in the soil. This lessens the humus supply, releases much of the soil's organic nitrogen, reduces the water-holding capacity of the soil and thereby lessens the moisture content. This makes the soil less congenial to the soil bacteria whose presence is essential to the complex chemical changes that are necessary for the best production of crops. Too long persisted in the soil becomes lifeless, sterile and non-productive. For the sake, therefore, of maintaining soil fertility the grain stubble should be promptly planted to some follow-up crop—even if it be only a cover crop.

But fortunately, one of the best crops to plant on grain stubble is at the same time one of the most profitable crops to plant. We refer to the legume family. Different varieties of this plant are better adapted to different soils and climates, but some variety will be found suitable for almost every condition. Where rainfall is sufficient, cowpeas can scarcely be beaten. In drier areas the Tepary bean has been found valuable while soy beans are good most anywhere on heavy or tight land.

According to J. C. Stephens, orchard and nursery inspector for the State Department of Agriculture, the Elberta peach crop is again short in East Texas. This is due to the frost from March 1 to 3 killing the buds. The Elberta crop is expected to not exceed 10 per cent of a normal crop while such early varieties as the Victor and the Arp Beauty showed but little damage from the freeze. It is a noticeable peculiarity about the peach that the late varieties bloom earliest and are most often caught by late frosts. The earlier varieties

FUNDAMENTAL REVELATION in DRAMATIC SYMBOL.

By Rev. J. T. Horger.

III.

Creation, Probation and Fall of Man

In our last article, under the above title, we wrote of the creation of the world and man by the WORD of God through the SPIRIT, a REVELATION of the PROCESS by which man was to be RE-CREATED in Christ Jesus.

And next the TRIUNE principle originating in the Godhead, manifest in the manhood, revealed in the plan of salvation and consummated in the THREEFOLD dispensation by which each true believer is redeemed by virtue of the Blood of Jesus Christ.

And then the creation of the woman taken from the wounded side of Adam the first, she being a type of the church, which also is taken from the bleeding side of Adam the second, Jesus Christ, the Son of God.

Now, in this article, we take up the PROBATION and FALL of man.

Therefore, let us read Gen. 2: 8, 9; also 2: 15, 16, 17:

"And the Lord God planted a garden EASTWARD in Eden; and there He put the man whom He had formed."

"And out of the ground made the Lord God to grow every tree that is pleasant to the sight, and good for food; the tree of life also in the midst of the garden, and the tree of Knowledge of good and evil."

Then we read Gen. 2: 15 to 17: "And the Lord God took the man and put him into the Garden of Eden to dress it and to keep it." "And the Lord God COMMANDED the man, saying, of every tree of the Garden thou mayest freely eat: But of the tree of Knowledge of good and evil thou shalt NOT eat of it: for in the day that thou eatest thereof THOU SHALT SURELY DIE."

Now, we understand the above to be a God-given biographical sketch of the actual life, and the real circumstances constituting the probation of Adam and Eve in the material paradise of the Eastern world.

But, we also see in this brief outline of Adam's probationary state, features which we believe to be God-ordained types and shadows signifying fundamental and vital principles which environ every son and daughter of Adam's race.

First, we note that this Garden was EASTWARD in Eden. This word EAST signifies the original starting point and primary state of all human progress in the earth. Just as the sun appears to rise in the east and send forth its rays of light westward until the whole earth is belted and flooded with its glorious light, even so did the early state of man's probation commence EASTWARD, that he might progress westward. This is fundamental and plays its part often in scriptural narrative.

We note that when Adam was put in the Garden it had already been prepared for him. In like manner it is true that when each of us, every son and daughter of Adam's race, made our advent into this world, we found ourselves in a state of probation in a world already prepared for us.

Adam was placed in a GARDEN, a PARADISE, a place of Beauty and Bliss.

The same is true with us. We are placed upon this earth with its majestic mountains and hills, its sparkling brooks and lovely dales. A veritable paradise of wonderful beauty and grandeur, except the withering blight of the touch of sin is to be seen, even in the material things of earth.

Adam found the Garden already planted with every tree that was pleasant to the sight, and good for food. Also upon our arrival here, we find that the providential hand of our Creator has already covered the earth with a living green verdure, and the landscape is adorned with a thousand varieties of beautiful flowers, with almost as many charming colors, many of which send forth delightful odors sweetening the air and perfuming the zephyrs that caress the earth.

The Garden in which Adam was placed, also abounded in luscious fruit in great variety.

Just so the endless varieties of the necessities for our support and maintenance, comfort and happiness, encompass us on every hand in the day and hour that God put each of us on probation in this world.

Gardens, vineyards, orchards and fields, with ripening fruit and golden grain, greet us on every hand upon our arrival here.

However, on Adam's advent into the Garden, in the midst thereof, just where he could not fail to see and come in contact with them, stood the strange and mystical "Tree of Life" and the equally strange and mysterious "Tree of Knowledge" of good and evil.

Strange as these two trees may appear, doubtless, they were planted there by the hand of an all wise and gracious God to represent by way of Type, or to symbolize the two great powers in the world which form excellent character by the use of the one, and endless destruction through the persistent indulgence in the other.

The Tree of Life stood for GOD-INSPIRED RIGHTEOUSNESS, which later was personified and exemplified in Jesus Christ.

The Tree of Knowledge of good and evil, the forbidden fruit, stood for the unrighteousness that is propagated by that old serpent, the Devil, —Sin.

Yes, just as in the case of Adam, when you and I appeared on probation in this world, right in the middle of it was the Tree of Life—the word of God, the Son of God who was the truth and the life. The gospel, the word of life is ever before us. And also the forbidden fruit, that which is wrong, sinful and wicked, by way of temptation, confront us on every hand.

God said to Adam and Eve, "of every tree of the Garden thou mayest freely eat: but of the tree of good and evil, thou SHALT NOT eat of it, for in the day that thou eatest thereof, THOU SHALT SURELY DIE."

Likewise has God given you and I privilege to freely take and use of every good and wholesome thing found in this world, everlasting life through Jesus Christ included, all contributing to the one end, that we should become the habitation of God through the Spirit, to our everlasting joy and His eternal glory throughout an endless age.

On the other hand, we are forbidden to take of the accursed things of sin and wickedness so prevalent everywhere we go. God, in love and mercy, is true to us in that He has forewarned us, that in the day that we sin against God and high Heaven, that we shall surely die—die, in that we forfeit eternal life, die to that love which delights in that which is good, pure and holy; die to that peace and joy and happiness which abide only with the pure in heart.

We now pass to the FALL of man as recorded in Gen. 3rd chapter, a few clauses of which we quote, as follows:

"Now the serpent was more subtle than any beast of the field which the Lord God had made. And He said unto the woman, 'yea, hath God said, ye shall not eat of every tree of the Garden?' And the woman said unto the serpent, 'we may eat of the fruit of the trees of the garden: But of the fruit of the tree which is in the midst of the garden, God hath said, ye shall NOT EAT of it; neither shall ye TOUCH it, lest ye die.'"

"And the serpent said unto the woman, 'ye shall NOT surely die: For God doth know that in the day ye eat thereof, then your eyes shall be opened, and ye shall be as Gods, knowing good and evil.'"

"And when the woman saw that the tree was good for food, and that it was pleasant to the eyes, and a tree that was desired to make one wise, she took of the fruit thereof, and did eat, AND GAVE ALSO TO HER HUSBAND with her, and he did eat."

"And the eyes of them both were opened, and they KNEW that they were naked; and they sewed fig leaves together and made themselves aprons."

Now, we observe that we, like Adam, are not only confronted with the forbidden fruit, that is, have an opportunity to sin and transgress God's laws of our own free will and accord, but as in Adam's case, there is always some one, like the serpent, ready to find fault of God's word, and to accuse our creator of making unreasonable demands of us, some one acting the part of an obscure and unsuspected representative of the Devil, to call the mind's eye to the beauty and utility of sin, which is the transgression of the law, symbolized by the forbidden fruit. If Satan, through his emissaries, can lead or draw us into intellectual and social intercourse relative to indulging in the things forbidden by God's holy law, and thus hold the mind by way of continued reflection on the carnal pleasures offered, we too, like our mother Eve, will find our hearts defiled with a lust for evil and with perverted eyes find that the forbidden fruit is PLEASANT to look upon and calculated to make us wise. Thus we, like Eve, are lead into transgression, death and destruction.

And just as she took of the forbidden fruit and did eat, and gave of it to her husband, we too, will pass our iniquities on to others, often to those who are nearest and dearest to us. Thus we, being in the way of death, are defiling and corrupting those we associate with, and soon their feet are in the ways of death and everlasting destruction.

But now we come to that question of the ages: Why did the tempter approach the WOMAN first, instead of the MAN; and why did the woman precede the man in the transgression, and consequently, in the fall? The most usual, and in some sense, commendable, answer given by the highly educated theological sages, who have an extended handle names, is that the woman, weaker vessel, was of easy and more readily overcome therefore the nearest avenue through which the transgression was to be overthrown. These, doubtless, some of the suburban fact case, which have but little value to us.

But if we would find the being first in the transgression, the fall, let us turn our eyes to the light and trivial to the fatal and sublime principles in the great plan of redemption, which let us EVER remember the sole purpose of the revelation. Then we will find that Adam, type of Christ, Rom. 5:14, Eve, the woman, is the "glory" of man—1st Cor. 11:3. In this case she represented MAN RACE, while Adam represented CHRIST. Now, in as much as would not and did not lead family into sin, it would be in keeping with the principles of the plan and of Jehovah for Adam, the transgressor, to have a transgression in this dramatic drama. But in perfect with the fact that the woman, Eve, led, and then gave.

Now, the fact that Adam, type of Christ in this drama, in the least exonerate him individual human on probation was held responsible for the act of transgression just as the woman. Nor is the Adam, while representing this drama, was defiled and a sinner in any sense to be to indicate that Jesus Christ ever be defiled or in any ever become a sinner. I would see the true analog symbolic drama, let us plunge into sin and corruption and ruin. Then let us be Christ, because He loved the courts of glory and de the lower paths of the earth, leading Himself to BE US, WHO KNEW NO SIN, might be made the righteous in Him.—2 Cor. 5:21.

To follow the analogy of man leading the man, as of the human race lead into the tragedies resulting fall of man, let us stand in the den of Gethsemane, there representing a fallen cherub, Roman soldier, representing tile world, LEAD the scene before the Jewish Sanhedrin before Pilate, then, and back to Pilate, who, investigation of the Jews, used the death sentence, scourged, and put a crown upon Him, and then LEAD Calvary, bearing his cross, on which they put death. "bearing our sins in body, on the tree, that dead to sin, should live eousness,"—1st Pet. 2:24.

"All we, like sheep, astray, . . . and the Lord on Him the iniquity of Isa. 53:6.

The Apostle says, "He for every man," Heb. 2:17.

But we must close this the purpose, the Lord will next, to continue under the head, "The Result of the Man."

I believe that James Ferguson will be elected to the U. S. Senate by an overwhelming majority in Castro-ville and Lacoste.
Gov. Ferguson spoke at Castroville last Saturday, June 17, 1922, to an audience estimated at 1,000.
Gov. Ferguson was well pleased with the audience that confronted him and had it not been for the inclement weather, there would have been at least 3,000 people here.

The Governor was in fine trim and laid down the principles of Democracy as thought by our forefathers. He is rated as a first class orator and for two hours held the attention of his hearers. The Governor was escorted from the Hutzler Hotel in a grand parade led by the school children with flags flying to Wernette's Garden where speaking took place. He left again Saturday evening to catch the 7 o'clock train for Temple.
The following poem was recited

by the children of the St. Louis
School in honor of Gov. Ferguson:
We're coming with flowers sincerely
to meet you,
With hearts true and kindly we greet you;
The latch-string is out, and by the same token—
"Thrice Welcome," we're saying—the gates are wide open.
O Guest of Distinction, to you we are plighted;
There are battles to fight now, there are wrongs to be righted;
With graft and oppression so rife in high places,
To you now the people are turning
their faces;
We're raising your standard, we're marching beside you;
'Mid the clamor of battle whatever
betide you,
We know you're a winner, so with
gladsome acclaim—
Hail, Hail, our new Senator, and Ferguson is his name!

Catarhal Deafness Cannot Be Cured
by Local applications as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure Catarhal Deafness and that is by constitutional remedy.
HALL'S CATARRH MEDICINE removes the blood from the mucous surface of the system. Catarhal Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube.
When this tube is inflamed you have rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result. Unless the inflammation can be reduced and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing may be destroyed forever. Many named Deafness is

Three Things Paint Must Do

- First—It must cover the surface, be true to shade and not fade.
- Second—Resist changes of temperature without cracking.
- Third—Stand the sun without blistering, chalking or peeling; Endure, last and satisfy.

All these qualities plus economy will be secured if you wisely give your preference to

Bradley & Vrooman Base and Tinter Paint

It is "live" fresh paint that spreads most easily and covers the most surface, gallon for gallon.

It possesses every good quality that stale "dead" paint lacks. Every drop is usable. There is no waste from hardening or setting in the package.

The colors are bright and glowing and it has the staminaland properties that give the greatest paint protection at a minimum cost.

Paint Doesn't Cost Money —It Saves It!

Unless your home is protected inside and outside by repainting at least once every four years, you will lose in repairs and lessened value, from five to ten times what the paint and labor would cost.

"Save the surface and you save all."

57 Shades of B. & V. Base and Tinter Paint in stock for inside and outside use. A Gold Bond Guarantee of satisfaction protects your purchase on every pint.

J. C. WEBB NEW PRESIDENT.

Local Man to Head State Farmers' Union; Succeeds Lyday.

With keen regrets the executive committee of the State Farmers' Union accepted the resignation of Mr. D. E. Lyday as president, and elected Brother Jim C. Webb as his successor. Bro. Webb is favorably known to nearly every member of this organization. He has been an active member of the Farmers' Union since August, 1904. He then resided in Lamar county. In 1905 he was elected president of the Lamar County Union. In 1906 he moved to Baylor County and continued his relations with the Farmers' Union. So appreciative was the organization of his activities that he was soon elected president of the Baylor County Union. He served in this capacity for two years. He was then elected county lecturer of that county. In 1914 he was elected secretary-treasurer of the Wichita Valley District Union. He served in this position six years. In 1916 he was elected a member of the state executive committee, which position he held until July, 1921.

Brother Webb was cotton grader and classer of the State Markets and Warehouse Department several years. In this position he rendered acceptable service to the state. In 1920 he was appointed cotton classer and grader by the United States Department of Agriculture and assigned to work at San Marcos, where he now resides. He is at the present time a member of the board of examiners to pass on the qualification of all applicants for certificates as cotton classers and graders.

Brother Webb was born in the grand old state of Arkansas, March 1, 1875. He came to Texas in 1902. He is a man of pleasing personality, a big heart and unusual natural ability, and from his manly nature great springs of kindness and sympathy flow. Back of the exterior somewhat bold, back of the manner somewhat abrupt, there is a good heart. It is the sun behind the clouds, smiting its blackness and throwing it into golden billows. A man of his peculiar type is like a hickory tree; if he has the rough bark of appearance and deportment, he has also the toughened fibers of integrity, and drops the sweet fruit of benevolence. He resembles a diamond before it has been struck by fire and wheel, and passes from the hands of the workman into the market. He is simple and childlike in manner, gentle and amiable in disposition, never striking hands with jeweled hypocrisy, nor eating at the table with restless envy. He is gallant, sincere and courageous, full of the milk of human kindness—a man of spotless reputation.

And this, brother members of our grand old organization, is your new president. To know him is to love him. Lend him your ears; give him your support; encourage him in the mighty task he has undertaken—the building up of our beloved organization that the thousands who know nothing of our principles of Equity, Justice and the Golden Rule may be brought into a closer communion with those battling for a better agricultural condition.—Farmers Union Messenger.

IN LOVING REMEMBRANCE OF FRITZ D. MUENNINK,

Who Died June 16th, 1921.

Since he went home—
Longer the evening shadows linger here,
The winter days fill so much of the year,
And even the summer winds are chill and drear
Since he went home.
Since he went home—
The Robin's note has touched a minor strain;
The old glad songs breathe a sad refrain,
And laughter sobs with hidden, bitter pain
Since he went home.
Since he went home—
How still the rooms his presence blessed;
Untouched the pillow that his dear head had pressed;
My lonely heart hath nowhere for its rest
Since he went home.
Since he went home—
The long, long days have crept away like years,
The sunlight has been dimmed with doubts and fears,
And the dark nights have rained in lonely tears
Since he went home.

His Loving Wife,
Katie L. Muennink.

KELLOGG REPRESENTATIVE VISITS HONDO.

Mamilton W. Wills, representing the Kellogg Toasted Corn Flake Co., spent three days in Hondo looking after the interests of his company.

Before leaving, Mr. Wills placed a sample package of Kellogg Corn Flakes in each home. This was done in order that the Hondo folks might compare Kellogg's with imitations to realize their quality, their appetizing appeal, their wonderful crispness. He said Kellogg Corn Flakes are packed in red and green packages that bear the signature of W. K. Kellogg.

Besides the Corn Flakes that are so popular, they manufacture Kellogg's Bran and Kellogg's Krumbles. The Bran is nature's remedy for relieving many of the stomach ills of people, and in Hondo alone over 60 packages were sold out of the stores during the month of May.

Kellogg Krumbles is a high class breakfast cereal, made out of whole wheat which is cooked and Krumbled and flavored by the famous Kellogg Malted Flavor.

Mr. Wills was sorry to learn that Mr. Fritz Frerichs is sick. He was in charge of the Red Cross Hospital at Ft. Bogard, New Mexico, where Rolphy Frerichs died.

Mr. Wills' headquarters is at the Traveler's Hotel, San Antonio. He said the people in Hondo ought to be proud of their town, as it is always a pleasure for a salesman to stop here when working the surrounding territory.
